

I made the decision to purchase a hunting partner last summer. After deciding on a GSP, the search was on for a puppy. I came across Shining Star GSP on a random website and sent out an email to Ed. That email was one of the best decisions of my life. Every experience, from the first visit to Ed and Emily's home to look at the pups, to picking him up after his training has far exceeded any expectations that I may have had.

Reading their website, they speak of the level of care and love that all their puppies receive. That is extremely evident as soon as you walk into their house. The level of love that they have for all their dogs is something that must be seen to truly appreciate. That love does not end at 7 weeks when you take the dog home either. I can say without a doubt, that as long as I own my dog, Ed and Emily will be there to answer any questions or help in any way they can.

I chose to send Moses to both the Puppy and the Adult training programs. Purchasing a Shining Star GSP was a great decision in and of itself, but the decision to have Ed train him was of equal greatness. Puppy training had been pushed back a little because of the bad weather, but Ed was kind enough to take Moses anyway for the E-collar training portion. I wanted to get him trained to that as soon as possible, and Ed was eager to help. Moses came back a different dog. So well behaved and attentive that I forgot that I had a 6 month old puppy. That great transformation continued as Moses progressed through the second week of Puppy School all the way till a couple weeks ago when he completed the adult program. Seeing him work the field and being able to shoot a few birds over him for the first time was a great feeling! I encourage anybody that purchases a dog to seriously consider both of these great training programs.

In closing, I would just like to say "Thank You" to Ed and Emily one more time. I am truly grateful for everything that you have done for me, my dog, and my family. Such a great breed deserves a great breeder, and Shining Star is it!
