

Well before I start to brag on Ed and Emily let me start by saying I'll be a Shining Star kennels customer for life. Jäger is an 11 month old male and my 2nd GSP, first from Shining Star. I was very picky about who I went to after my 9 year old passed away suddenly, and I could not have found better. I have been with Ed now through the whole process from meeting mom and dad to my pick all the way to my dog being finished. Let me tell you Ed pulls no punches and you will get an honest answer to any question and he will take your dog as far as it will go. I've never been so excited and pleased by a breeder/trainer before. My favorite question from Ed was " well do you want your dog steady to wing or steady to wing and shot?". I knew from that point on he was going to train a monster. I told Ed from the beginning that I wanted a great house dog and a hunting machine and he has delivered. I was constantly updated on my dog's progress and have probably driven him crazy with phone calls that he took with a smile every time. Jäger is absolutely amazing with my 3 year old daughter and now 4 month old son. Jäger is now 3 weeks away from his first NAVHDA hunt test and Emily was a huge help in giving information on how to get him registered and what information I needed and always had a smile when we went to visit. Even once at home, I called on Ed for advice and he was happy to help every time. Once I told Ed I wanted to run Jäger myself in the hunt test he was very supportive and very excited for someone else who shares the passion of GSP's. I'm sure I'm missing a number of other great things that this family has done for mine, but all I have to say is your crazy if you don't choose Shining Star.
